LOOK.

This is Lees-McRae. Nestled in the serene valley surrounded by such skyscrapers as Grandfather. Beech, Hanging Rock, and Sugar Mountains. And yet, amid the resort mecca of the Southeast, a picturesque campus with an atmosphere conducive to study

LISTEN.

Lees-McRae has long been known for its informal atmosphere and friendly student-faculty relationships. The complaint of the university student: "Nobody knows my name", cannot be voiced by a Lees-McRae student who is willing to respond to the greetings of those who meet him on campus.

Lees-McRae is many things. It's students going to class it's laughter at a pep rally ... friendly chats in the student center... making new acquaintances and renewing old ones . . . lasting friendships . . . weary eyes at exams . . . clouds hanging low over the Beech. Most important, it is people people seeking the constant challenge, the desire to excel. In an atmosphere condusive to study students labor as they grasp friendships, happiness and achievement. Each student may look back into the past, examining the aspects of Lees-McRae that rendered service; and helped mold character and cultivate maturity. Look back at the challenges encountered . . . and the results . . . Students may leave these mountains with a real vision of service and when they leave, they realize that this was "home.

Lees-McRae is the students; the students are Lees-McRae-not as they exist one by one, but as they are unified by the idea that is uniquely our own. Every student has an assurance of why the spirit of Lees.McRae is the spirit that makes a man or woman responsible, sincere, and above all constant to the ways of Lee-McRae life.

STOP.

Achievement is the ultimate goal. You the individual form the basis of life at Lees-McRae. You are the individual. These are very important words at Lees-McRae College, for you, the individual, form the basis in which attention to you as a person is focused. At Lees-McRae College you are more than just a student number, you are a human being. You are a human being with human problems and human ambition. Lees-McRae is extremely proud of the fact that it can treat each individual as a person, and not as a number. It is the idea of you, the individual, that forms the heart of Lees-McRae College. No one can visit Lees-McRae without sensing some of the excitement and sense of anticipation that pervades the atmosphere of the campus. There is great pride in the achievements of recent years, particularly in securing attractive new buildings, in renovation to the old ones, in improvements in the faculty, and in the widening recognition that things are happening. Lees-McRae is what's happening!

Owing to the generous gifts and efforts of concerned men and women, the college achieved the goal of the "We Care" campaign in the most ambitious fund-raising program in the history of the school. The completion of the new cafeteria/ auditorium and Physical Education center has made it possible to meet the increasing demands placed upon Lees-McRae by a vibrant student body and energetic faculty. The much-needed facilities will enhance the educational, cultural and social opportunities for Lees-McRae students.

FEATURES

Students take part in talent shows, sponsor carnivals, give dances and banquets and many other things. Many exciting events are campus-wide events. In the fall there is Homecoming, naming of a court and queen, the big game, a parade and adance. Winter brings the Winter Carnival held on Beech, featuring free skiing, a fashion show, and the crowning of "Mr. and Miss Winter Carnival". The Tower sponsored "Wonderful Wednesday", a day of fun for the student body. Main events of "Wonderful Wednesday" included honors and awards convocation, and games on Tate Lawn. Spring activities are climaxed by the May Dance weekend and the selection of the May Queen.

Lees-McRae seeks to educate the whole student, which includes both academic and cultural areas. In order to increase the student's awareness of the area of culture, Lees-McRae invites top performers from all over the country to entertain on campus as a part of the convocation program. This list includes outstanding coaches, pop singers, clergymen, athletes, and many others, all of whom contribute to a program intended to expand the cultural horizon of each student. A partial list of special programs and activities on campus this past year includes: U. S. Army Field Band, Washington, D.C.; Vladimir Viardo, Winner of the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition; Buford Pusser, hero of "Walking Tall"; Wallace M. Alston, Jr., First Presbyterian Church, Durham; Bobby Richardson, former player for New York Yankees, athletics, University of S.C.; Mac Frampton Trio, Bronze Winner, Van Cliburn International Competition; G. Carswell Hughs, First Presbyterian Church, Charlotte, N.C.; Science Hill High School, "Brigadoon"; Attorney General Robert Morgan helping us honor local law enforcement with Frank Pusey Day; Rev. Lee Adkins, First Presbyterian Church, Burlington; Rev. Roland Mullinix, Methodist Church, Banner Elk; Jimmy Buffett, musical concert; Copper Kettle, folk band; Rick Carreno, Evangelist; Rev. Clements Lamberth, General Presbyter, Concord Presbytery; Rev. Dodie Rossell, campus ministry, East Tennessee State University; Alpha Omega Players, "Thurber Carnival"; James DiRaddo, Staley Distinguished Lecturer; Howard Higgins, "Among The Spirits"; Winter Carnival; Layton Mauze, III, First Presbyterian Church, Statesville; and Roy Clogston, Athletics, Appalachian State University.

HOMECOMING

The college observed its 43 rd Homecoming with a gala parade and football clash with a new rival. The seventh annual Homecoming Parade was the second largest ever as it meandered through Banner Elk with 60 units. The Bobcats defeated Nassau Community College in a cliffhanger 28-27. The Alumni Dance was held at Seven Devils Lodge while the students danced to the music of "The Band of Oz," at the convention Hall at the Holiday Inn in Boone.

Among the 62 entries in the parade, the Order of the Tower won first place in the float contest, followed by the Circle $K$ Club, and Phi Theta Kappa. The floats were judged on how well they related to the theme "This is My Country." The dormitory decoration award went to Cannon Cottage for Men.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Despite inclement weather conditions and spring-like temperatures, Lees-McRae forged ahead with its seventh annual Winter Carnival. The theme for the 1974 Winter Carnival was "Cupid In The Snow." Students modeled ski apparel furnished through the courtesy of the Beech Mountain Sports Haus. The free day of skiing and games was postponed two weeks because winter was interrupted by the Banner Elk monsoon season.

WONDERFUL WEDNESDAY

That wonderful day came once again to the surprise and marvel of the students. "Wonderful Wednesday" came weeks before school was out. This is the third year that "Wonderful Wednesday" has been celebrated with over whelming success. The exact Wednesday each year is a closely guarded secret. Members of the Order of the Tower, the prestigious campus organization that sponsors and plans the day, arose in the wee hours of the morning to post notices and bulletins all over the school saying, "This is the Day." Awards, medals, and scholarships are presented to individuals in recognition of outstanding performances in the different sports, clubs, associations, and societies, and for curricula subjects.

Fun games among the students filled in time slots between the more formal parts of the day's program. Wheelbarrow races, frisbee contests, three-legged race, tug-of-war, etc. were topped off by dancing to "Lowride," a rock group in the afternoon, and honors and awards in the evening closed out the day.

ATHLETICS

Athletics is a very important part of life at Lees-McRae. Our teams carry the name of the college all over the East Coast. Respected as a Junior College power, the Bobcats compete in intercollegiate Football, Basketball, Skiing, Track, Tennis, Golf, and Cross Country. Aside from the intercollegiate program, the college has a very active intramural program involving men's and women's flag football, volleyball, tennis, fencing, skiing, basketball, and softball. Most students on campus are active in at least one or more of these programs.

FOOTBALL

Lees-McRae posted its best season under Head Coach Mike Cook with a $7-2$ record and earned Cook "Coach of the Year" honors in the Coastal Conference of the NJCAA. The Bobcats had several superlatives including two J.C. Grid-Wire All-Americans in Clark Gaines and Jerome Hill. Cook took over the helm of the Bobcats in 1971. The Bobcats under Cook finished second in the league his first year with a 6-2-1 record. They missed the championship by a missed extra point against Ferrum who won the league crown. Cook suffered through a dismal season in 1972 as the Bobcats posted a $3-6$ season. The hard luck Bobcats that year lost two games by one point, dropped two games by a three-point margin and lost two games by seven points. Cook's efforts resulted in a 7-2 record this year for a second place finish in the league. Ferrum won the crown but did so by coming from behind in the last minute of play on a puntreturn to defeat Lees-McRae, 19.16. The loss also eliminated Lees-McRae from the National Bowl game picture.

Defensive tackle Jerome Hill was named to the first team All-America, and Clark "Super" Gaines was listed as an Honorable-Mention All-American by the J.C. Grid-Wire. Grid-Wire editor Hank Ives cited Hill for his outstanding defensive efforts and sacking the opposition's quarterbacks 26 times. Hill was named "Lineman of the Year" in the Coastal Conference. Gaines, who shattered Lees-McRae rushing records and became the most prolific ground gainer in Lees-McRae history, was "Back of the Year" in the Conference. Lees-McRae football assistants were Bill Maxson and Steve Lytton.

The unsung heroes.

Lees-McRae's offensive tackle Charles Mills was named to the first team of the All-Coastal Conference. Mills, a rugged $6^{\prime} 2^{\prime \prime}, 256 \mathrm{lb}$. tackle opened gaping holes for Bobcat running backs all season. Mills, along with teammates center Richard Bowers, guards George Page, Phil Williams, Ken Villeponteaux, tackles Murray Smith, Kit Wilson, and tightend Bill Yeager, are considered the best offensive line of the Seventies for the Bobcats. The unsung heroes up front made it possible for Lees-McRae College to lead the Coastal Conference in rushing and rank ninth in the nation in rushing with 231.4 vards per game. Running back Clark Gaines was a big plus in the Bobcat rushing department as he placed second in the nation with 1,105 yards in 179 rushes.

Lees-McRae's Clark Gaines was named "Back of the Year" in the Coastal Conference. Gaines led the league and was second in the nation in rushing with 1,105 yards in the 179 trips. Gaines was a unanimous choice for All-Coastal Conference and was the leading rusher in the league's North-South All-Star game held in Keyser, West Virginia, this year.

Gaines paved the way to Lees-McRae's $37-6$ rout of the Catamounts with two touchdowns and a record-shattering 198 yards rushing in 18 carries. Gaines joined the elite 1,000 yard club and erased the record formerly held by Johnny Phipps in 1954 with 1,013 yards. Gaines becomes the third Bobcat to go over a thousand yards in a season with 1,105 yards. Gaines has 1,885 career yards rushing, enough to eclipse Ron Parson's career rushing record of 1,774 yards set in 1970-71.

The Lees-McRae Bobcat grid team led the nation in defense for the second time in four years according to the home office of the NJCAA in Hutchinson, Kansas. A big plus in that defensive record was co-captain and defensive standout Jerome Hill. Hill was picked "Lineman of the Year" in the Conference. Selected to play in the Coastal Conference's North-South All-Star Game, Hill grabbed "Most Valuable" honors as the outstanding lineman in the Thanksgiving Holiday tilt. The Bobcats led the NJCAA by limiting opponents to 354 yards in nine games for a 39.3 average. Fort Scott, Kansas, was second giving up 736 yards to opponents for a 73.6 average per game. Lees-McRae was sixth in the nation in total defense allowing 173.8 total yards to their opponents. Pearl River (Miss.) JC led with 139.8. Head Coach Mike Cook put the program together this season and directed Lees-McRae to a 7.2 record. Coach Bill Maxson was the architect of the Bobcat defense.

BASKETBALL

The Bobcats enjoyed their best season under Coach Tee Haithcock as they posted a 17-11 overall worksheet and a $9-5$ conference record. The highlight of the season was the championship of the Miami Dade Tournament and the exciting overtime victory of Motlow State (Tennessee), a 100.94 in the Dalton, Georgia Christmas Classic tournament for a third place finish.

Soaring Wayne Reese seemed to always be up in the air. Reese was the leading point maker for the Bobcats. Reese re-wrote the record books. Reese starred in the Western Carolina Relays and placed third in the long jump establishing a new record of 22 feet 11 inches. He also bettered his own triple jump record of 46 feet, $11 / 2$ inch. He was also a member of the 440 relay team (Catlin. McSwain. Reese, and Winkle) that set a new relay record. Reese dominated the jumping scene all year in the League.

Richard McSwain, below, shattered the oldest record in the books at Lees-McRae, as he ran a 9.7 hundred to erase the 100 yard-dash mark held by Carl Swanson in 1955. Swanson's record was 10 flat and was tied by Lou Farri in 1972 but fell before McSwain's effort which may not be equalled for another 20 years. David Blue established a new three-mile record of 18:29.6. The old school record was held by Hal Bagwell, with a time of 18:45.1. For the first time in recent years, Lees-McRae placed men on the Raleigh News and Observer's Honor Roll in Track. Listed among the college's best cindermen in the state were The Bobcat 440 Relay Team ranked tenth, Pembroke State, N.C. Central, ECU were top. Wayne Reece ranked 8 in the long jump behind Godwin of Fayetteville, Gaines of WCU, and Quick of Chapel Hill. Reece took 10th in the State for triple jump. NC State's Dale Scott led that category. Benny Fowler was fifth in the state's pole vaulters.

Reece hands off to Brian Catlin who streaks off to home. Below left, Richard Moran is all alone in the hurdles.

"Our team was small . . . we didn't have numbers enough to win . . . we didn't have a winning season, but we had some outstanding superlatives on the team." - Wily Bobcat.

TENNIS

Bobcat net men established a new record in shutouts with 11 whitewashes. They notched another record as they were the first team to post a 20 -match season win. Coupled with their four victories in the fall, they sported a $24-4$ worksheet. Greg Robinson was $17-5$ and set a new career record in the no. 1 singles with 33 victories and 8 losses. Steve Cutchin likewise rewrote the record books going undefeated at the no. 3 singles $21-0$ and set a new career record of 37 wins and 3 losses. The Bobcats finished tied for second in the WCJCC and second in the region. They notched their first victory over Wingate in 7 years. Wayne Otto was undefeated at the no. 4 singles position 22-0. In his fourteenth year as Head Coach, Don Baker was named "Coach of the Year" in the Conference.

Freshman Sue Smith turned in a sturring performance, losing only one match at the no. 1 singles position. She received ample support from veterans Sue Bryant. Pat Young, and Peggy Reynolds. The Bobkitten netters had to face senior college competition since the junior colleges would not schedule the tough Lees-McRae lasses.

INTRAMURALS

A vital part of the athletic tradition is the intramural competition. Intramurals promote sportsmanship and offer students an opportunity to excel in areas outside the academic curricula. The character building competition, the physical outlet for energies and genuine enjoyment are integral parts of the program.

Each student can find some athletic interest in the expansive intramural program at Lees-McRae. His interest and competition make valuable contributions to his college life and education. For Lees-McRae is a way of life and its intramural program is one inseparable factor of this way of living. Under the capable direction of Tee Haithcock, Lees.McRae witnessed a banner year in intramural athletics with record participation in every sport

According to statistics released by Tee Haithcock, Director of Athletics, Lees-McRae witnessed a banner year in participation in intramural athletics. Haithcock directs the intramural program that saw thirty-one students participate in golf, 158 in tag football, volleyball 271, basketball 152, softball 162 , and the tennis round-robin tournament had 33 participants, 8 women and 25 men. It was the largest year yet for intramural basketball, with two divisions with 8 teams in each division. Women supplied three teams, 9 teams vied for first place in the football intramurals, and volleyball had the largest number of teams participating, 30. Intramurals have become one of the most popular of all extracurricular activities on the Lees. McRae campus.

Fierce action and stern competition typifies intramural play.

Wayne Otto is stopped short of earning his team a victory in the playoff

An unidentified hero snares a pass in the end zone for a TD.

The women had some rockem sockem contests as indicated above. Coach Haithcock, intramural director, referees and players kneel over stunned player (flat on her back). The player in question was revived, however, and returned to the game.

FENCING

Under the expert coaching of Librarian Richard Jackson, the age old art of fencing had another successful year. Stu dents are taught the correct procedure for sportsmanship in voived in fencing, and the sport has created as much interest on the LMC campus as skiing. Below, Joe Lowery chats with instructor Jackson, while Richard Hess watches students using the foil.

CLASSES

Lees-McRae is an institution that believes in educating the whole person. The academic program is directed toward training the intellect, strengtherting the body and providing a rich spiritual and social life leading to wholesome personal living. The classes, the labs, the campus, discussions, the lectures, and the moments of quiet study all lead to the ultimate goal: graduation.

ACTIVITIES

Activities aid in the building of stronger personalities, higher ideals, and life.time friendships. When the student leaves his books, he turns to fellowship with the other students of the campus. He finds co-operation, competition, and devotion in the clubs and organizations on campus. The individual student benefits the club, while the club benefits the student.

After a long day of classes, students like to get together and relax. They also like to do things to make life at their college more pleasant and en joyable. The various clubs and organizations on campus provide this kind of activity.

The clubs provide an opportunity for participating and leadership, a spirit of cooperation, and even a bit of competition evolves when individuals work together. This involvement in extra-curricu lar actıvitues makes for an enjoyable and relaxed atmosphere on campus as well as offering a chal lenge and affording each student with a sense of contributing something - great or small.

THE  STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Student Government Association is to strive for unification of the student body. This year we have sponsored several dances. Among those were the Get Acquainted Dance, which was to give the Freshmen and Sophomores a chance to meet each other. The Homecoming Dance featured "The Band of $\mathrm{Oz"}^{\text {", the Christmas Dance featured }}$ "Fragile", and the May Dance featured "Truth." The dances were very successful, and we enjoyed all the work that came along with them. The SGA officers have worked this year to amend the Green and Gold on several cases. They also set up a book bank for those students who can't financially afford them. Along with this, the SGA sponsored free Saturday night movies and free legal advice for any LMC student who desired it. The Sophomore banquet and the SGA banquet were also financed by the SGA. The officers also took care of Homecoming Court elections, May Court elections, Freshmen elections, SGA elections, and Sophomore elections. This year the SGA published a newsletter, "Ten Days," which gave students news of "What's Happenin' at LMC." In essence, all the 73.74 SGA officers feel that this has been a very successful and worthwhile year for them and hope that you, as SGA members, feel the same.

Phi Theta Kappa is Lees.McRae's honorary scholastic frater nity. Requirements for induction into the society are: grade point average above a 3.0, recommendation by faculty and students, and a desire to serve Lees-McRae. This year, the Beta Tau Chapter of Lees-McRae sponsored many projects including a trip to the State Convention at Myrtle Beach, S.C., and a trip to the National Convention at Kansas City, Missouri.

The Order of the Tower is a carefully selected group of twelve students who serve the college and help to promote a better relationship between the students and the faculty. This year's Tower members began their work as marshals for the 1973 graduation. Throughout the year these members sponsored the traditional Halloween Carnival, several moneymaking activities, and sponsored Wonderful Wednesday. This group also aided in the evaluation of the Self Study Report. The Order of the Tower is the least publicized organization on campus as far as achievements go. That's the way it should be because we are just here to promote the welfare of the college and make life a little more enjoyable for all concerned.

SULLIVANIANS

The Sullivanians, a women's leadership organization, was organized in 1934 and was named in honor of Mary Mildred Sullivan, a benefactor of the college. The main purpose of this organization is to develop character, leadership, and personality through fellowship and service to others.

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes provides its members a chance to participate in activities, have interests, feelings and experiences with people who share the common bond of Christ and sports. The club consists of members with many various religions. This year the FCA learned from interesting speakers at the meetings. The club enjoyed sharing Christmas with children from the Boone Home for Children. A basketbalk one-on-one tournament was sponsored as the club also participated in school activities. It is not unusual to see FCA members at the Grandfather Home for Children or walking around campus with a wide grin.

Circle K members sport trophies and plaques that the club walked away with at the Convention.

CIRCLE K

The Circle K Club of Lees-McRae College had a very successful year. The club had many projects this year, which included operating concessions at all campus athletic events, gathering gifts for needy children at Christmas, campus-wide clean-ups, a town clean-up with the Kiwanis Club, Car Wash, Car Bash, and Rummage Sale. The Circle K representative on the Homecoming Court, Miss Susan Patten, was Maid of Honor to the Queen. We entered a float which won 2nd prize. In March the club traveled to Winston-Salem to the District Convention. While there, the Lees-McRae Club won seven out of nine awards. They included Most Improved Club, 2nd place Single Service Award, 1st place Club Achievement, Most Qutstanding Member, Man-mile Award, Vick Vickery Award, Jim Storey Award. Vance Rhodes, one of our members, was elected Lt. Gov. of his division.

Through the club there will be encouragement for day students to take a more active part in campus activities and become more at home while on campus.

LMC THEATRE DEPARTMENT

The Lees-McRae Theatre Department undertook the grandi ose and ambitious task of presenting the musical "Fiddler on the Roof" for their Spring production. "Fiddler on the Roof" is a musical which traces the paths of a man (Tevye) who is caught up in the problem of relating to others in everyday life. He approaches life with a great deal of faith and with a sense of humor. Tevye is representative of every man who strives to cope with a world that seems out of kilter. The leading role of Tevye was done by an outstanding Lees-McRae theatre student, Miller Wright. The role of "Golde" was played by Dr Lois Ann Harris, wife of Director Kim Harris.

Lawrence Stubbs gave a moving, sensitive, and convincing performance of Henry David Thoreau in the Lees-McRae Theatre Department's Fall production of "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail." More than a century ago Thoreau was dismissed as a gifted weirdo. Only a rebel like Emerson's handyman who dare questioned the benefits of technology. Under the direction of Dr. Kim Harris, the audience found they were not concerned with Thoreau in jail, but with an explosive spirit who addressed himself to the perils of our time. Student director for the play was Carol Godwin.

HIGHLANDERS

It was felt that Lees-McRae, being located in the highlands of North Carolina, resembling Scotland, and with early establishment of a Presbyterian Church with many of the original members being of Scottish descent, and having the name of the college derived from two Scots, Lees and McRae, it was apropos that the college have a singing group called "The Highlanders". The 1973.74 Highlanders performed for over 20 churches in the Concord and Holston Presbyteries. They entertained the audience at the "We Care" Campaign Victory Dinner. They also gave their annual Christmas Concert

ELEANOR OSBORNE MEMORIAL VOLUNTEERS

The EOMV is mainly a service organization. Its purpose is not to raise money for various projects, but to volunteer time to Cannon Memoriai Hospital and the community. As of this writing, the Hospital Volunteers have donated 151 hours and 25 minutes to Cannon Memorial Hospital as aides, messengers, typists, and serving in other volunteered capacities. The EOMV assisted the Senior Hospital Volunteers in their annual "Winter Wonderland" Fashion Show. The LMC Volunteers sold tickets and also modeled fashions. The money raised by the fashion show was used to purchase equipment for the nursery at Cannon Memorial. The Hospital Volunteers participated in the Homecoming festivities by having a representative on the Homecoming Court. Also, the club was represented in the Snow Carnival and May Court. Our Club's finances are very small. Using the money left from last year and with contributions by individual club members, new uniforms were purchased to replace the out-dated Candy Stripe attire.

CHEERLEADERS

Wherever the Bobcats are playing, vou'll find the LMC Cheerleaders. Many a close victory has been sparked by the enthusiasm of the fans led, of course, by the cheerleaders. The Cheerleaders have more than ever promoted school spirit in both the athletes and the fans.

The Board of Trustees continued to make far-reaching decisions on behalf of the college. They spearheaded, along with Dr. Evans, the campaign drive in one of the most ambitious building goals in the history of the school.

They faced the decisions to refurbish and renovate some of the existing buildings, as well as see the new gym and cafeteria/auditorium completed. Beautification to the campus and grounds were pushed through, as well as plans for a new plaza-garden section on the front campus.

The minor details taken care of by the Board of Trustees, of less magnitude than these mentioned, are too numerous to name among these pages.

But they continue to offer the leadership and direction of Lees-McRae College for a greater institution. They strive to combine the motto: "In the mountains, of the mountains, and for the mountains" with the slogan: "The College That Cares".

OUR PRESIDENT . . . DR. H. C. EVANS, JR.

Dr. H.C. Evans, Jr., President of Lees-McRae, was named "Man of the Year" in Avery County, North Carolina. Dr. Evans was presented the award before approximately 151 attending a Chamber of Commerce Banquet at the Banner Elk Holiday Inn.

Dr. Evans, Lees-McRae's dynamic President, area Scout Leader, and civic bulwark in the community, earned again his unofficial title, "The President that Cares," from the students of LMC. Dr. Evans does care about the school, and about the students. In spite of his jet-paced calendar of events that takes him all over the nation meeting, speaking, and raising the massive amounts of money that is required to keep LeesMcRae going, Dr. Evans somehow manages to maintain an "open door" policy with the students. Respected and held in genuine affection by the student body, Dr. Evans is more than a leader, he is a symbol of the Lees-McRae way of life.

Educated in the public schools of Tennessee, LMC's amiable President graduated from Carson-Newman College, where he received his B.A. degree in 1950. He earned his M.A. degree from Columbia University and his Ed.D. from the University of Tennessee in 1958. He has done additional studies at the University of Colorado and Lafayette College.

Dr. Evans has had a distinguished and admirable career as an educator. He was an instructor of Psychology and Education at Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee where he also served as Chairman of the Department and Director of Teacher Education. Before his days at Jefferson City, which preceded his Presidency at Lees-McRae, Dr. Evans utilized his many and varied talents in the public school system of Tennessee serving as everything from band organizer and director to guidance counselor. Because of his fine work in the field of education he was chosen the Jaycee's Man of the Year in Morristown for 1957 and was runner-up for Man of the Year in the State of Tennessee for that year. He was chosen "Tennessee Teacher of the Year" in 1959. To try to list all of Dr. Evans' awards, citations, honors, activities and labors, would take several pages. It is perhaps sufficient to say of a man like Dr. Evans, "He is a rare man."

Eighteen months ago Dr. Evans was one of fifty national educators chosen by NASA to participate in the Educator's Seminar for the Apollo 16 Launch. At the April launching Dr. Evans and the other educators were taken to the VIP section, less than three miles from the launch pad where he watched the lift-off along with King Hussein of Jordan, President and Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Spiro Agnew, and hosts of Governors, Senators, and other VIPs.

Active in civic affairs, he has organized Kiwanis Clubs in Banner Elk, Newland and Boone, has twenty years perfect attendance in Kiwanis service and served as Lt. Governor of Division 1B.

Active in church work, he serves as moderator of Holston Presbytery and chairs various committees of the Presbytery and church. An elder in the Banner Elk Presbyterian Church, he has been a scoutmaster for 25 years and is a member of the Executive Board of the Daniel Boone Council, BSA.

With his busy schedule at the college, it is a real tribute to a man who can take an active part in community, civic, and church affairs.

'WE CARE' FUND EXCEEDS A MILLION-AND-A-HALF DOLLARS

Lees-McRae College celebrated the 1972-73 "We Care" campaign with a victory dinner September 16 in the A. C. Chaffee Auditorium on the Banner Elk campus. The victory dinner climaxed a campaign conducted over a two-year period that raised over $$ 1,500,000$ for the construction of a Cafeteria-Auditorium and a Physical Education complex.

John H. Williams of Tulsa, Oklahoma and Linville, General Chairman of the "We Care Fund", presided. Special presentations were made to H. C. Evans, Jr., President of LeesMcRae College, and to John H. Williams by Ketchum, Inc., the professional organization from Charlotte that helped conduct the campaign. The citations cited Williams and Evans for "Ieadership in American philanthrophy and distinguished performance in a campaign to provide funds for Lees-McRae College." Dr. Evans and Business Manager James Cawood were also given plaques by the college family for their devoted and outstanding service to the campaign.

Mr . Williams was recognized for his outstanding service and leadership in the fund drive.

In presenting Dr. Evans with this plaque, Academic Dean James Stonesifer stated, "This is from the LMC Faculty and Staff in apprecia-

DIVISION OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

Adventure and romance, illusion and laughter, fear and anger, desperate hopes and dreams. These are the things which have prodded man's mind as he developed his intellect throughout the centuries. This evolution of the mind of man is our heritage. The study and comprehension of the record of this evolution (literature) will reveal both our century's individuality and its universal union with all that is and has ever been man.

Science at Lees-McRae College is a happening, a trip into the realm of the natural and physical sciences.

Thinking is the key to the approach in this academic area. All the students learn to think out and evaluate basic concepts and principles.

Being in the sciences at Lees-McRae, one has an opportunity to study life and to do so in a dynamic and exciting program.

All of this makes it quite evident that those students educated through the Division of Natural and Physical Sciences are better individuals for having been exposed to the biological, chemical, and physical phenomena of this very complex world we live in today.

DIVISION OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Understanding other life styles is an education. The student of a foreign language grows to understand other life styles because he eventually realizes that a simple word for word comparison is not all there is to it. He learns that a language portrays culture, history, concepts, ideas, and feelings, all of which foster understanding.

DIVISION OF MATHEMATICS AND GRAPHICS

Studies in Mathematics and Graphics offer the student an opportunity to expand elementary skills and update past experiences in the world of numbers and symbols. Greater achievements are attained as the mind applies newly found knowledge to areas of personal interest, and logic becomes a way of thinking.

An understanding of history permeates from the Division of Social Science. Since an understanding of human behavior is the basis upon all social knowledge studies in many areas will better prepare the student to understand the present and to plan the future. Thus the social sciences offer the student studies in the major political fields of the past, as well as the present.

At Lees-McRae the old idea that a healthy mind and a healthy body go hand in hand is closely observed. Lees-McRae has a tradition of fitness and physical education that is closely regarded. Tennis, basketball, skiing, fencing, volleyball, football, the list of opportunities seems endless. A good liberal arts education requires an exposure to all of life and the Physical Education Department at Lees-McRae strives to provide an important part of that education.

ACADEMIC SKILLS CLINIC DIVISION OF DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES

The philosophy behind the Developmental-Tutorial program at LMC is first of all to recognize that there are, indeed, many who are not suited or inclined to enroll in a college curriculum program. There are, however, those who could enroll, benefit from, and achieve in the college situation even though their high school scholastic records do not point to this conclusion. These are often the "damaged" students, victims of a past history of low achievement and lack of study skills. Their self-concept is low; their motivation is poor; their study habits negligible. The aim essentially is to provide the situation and staff which will substantially raise that self-concept, operate to build and sustain adequate motivation, and train the "damaged" students in successful study habits.

We seek to do this through an Academic Skills Clinic and developmental courses in Math, Reading, and Writing. The Clinic is staffed by three developmental instructors, three adult counselors and five peer counselors. The entire staff undergoes an extensive program of training in the diagnosing and training study skills techniques and motivation. Incoming students are tested in skills, tutored in individual subject matter and trained in the skills of good study habits. Special study sessions are conducted in various subjects and skills classes are also held in such areas as note-taking and exam-taking techniques. Programmed materials are prescribed in some subjects with achievement tests being given to determine their success or lack of it.

DIVISION OF RELIGION, PHILOSOPHY AND FINE ARTS

Since the beginning of man, he has tried to understand the meaning for life and has expressed this search in art, music, religion and his deepest thoughts.

Now, on the Lees-McRae Campus, the student of today has the opportunity to carry on the same search and seek to understand the meaning of his existence. Art, music, religion, and philosophy attempt to give avenues for this expression, as they did when man first appeared. However, these expressions are now in the form of college courses - Art Appreciation, Music Appreciation, Introductory Philosophy, and Fine Arts. There is the hope that these courses will enable the student to understand, affirm, and express life as he lives, works, and studies in a complex world of people, places and things.

Vernon Robert Jansen, Stated Clerk and General Secretary, Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church in the United States, and Roy A. Taylor, Congressman from the Eleventh District, challenged the Forty-Fourth Graduating Class of LeesMcRae College to seek active roles after commencement. One of the largest graduating classes heard Taylor challenge:
"America needs the idealism and the enthusiasm and the inherent honesty of youth in government and in politics. America needs the best that you can give. In 1776 when the Declaration of Independence was written, Jefferson was only 33 years of age. Madison was only 25 . One-third of those who wrote the Constitution were under 35 . Youth is a positive voice as the times are changing. Youth sees the world, not as it is, but as it could be and should be. Every citizen needs to be a participant in government - not merely an observer. Somebody has to take charge, and if good men don't, bad men will. So I say, make up your minds now that you will devote some portions of your lives to public service by participating in politics, running for office, choosing a career in teaching or government or taking part in the countless volunteer activities which are making our communities and our nation a better place to live. As individuals, you will be judged not so much by what you know as by what you do, and the cumulative acts of individuals of your generation will determine the course of our nation's history. Democracy is not an easy job. It depends on each of us. God forbid an epitaph for the American idea which reads: 'Born an idealist - died of apathy.' Yet, such has happened to many nations.'

"The decision to become involved can be a rewarding, satisfying experience, and make you feel like a Jansen stated that the call of Abraham, as discussed in the 11th and 12th chapters of Genesis, had a great meaning for the 20th Century. "On this special day there is no message more appropriate than God's call to Abraham to be a doer and not a hearer - Abraham the activist. When Abraham was called, when Moses and John the Baptist heard the call, they left immediately to preach the word of God without counting the cost. In every generation God has raised up leaders to fulfill His will. In the 60's only a participant could know success through involvement and through human improvement. The spectator was lost. Action was the role of the 60's. The early 70's have quietened down some from those years of 'activism and cause.' Two human types are recorded in the Bible regarding their 'going out': the wanderer and the pilgrim. Cain wandered. He refused to be his brother's keeper. He built a refuge among the wanderers but never solved any problems. Abraham was a pilgrim. He got involved. He was uprooted, he was a sojourner in a foreign land. There is a difference between the wanderer and the pilgrim," Jansen continued, "both are on the move and neither knows where he is going."

"There is some of each of these men in us; but the wanderer has no faith. The pilgrim has faith. The pilgrim is a sojourner in a reliance on a promise." Jansen elaborated on the why and the how of the pilgrim's task and stated that the "when" is "now" and the place is "here."
"Start your involvement immediately ... get up and get going... don't be a hearer, be a doer. The Christian Church should get involved in civil service and government in order to seek a level of ethical behavior to all affairs of men in all walks of life.

Peter Brawley receives a standing ovation from his classmates after being recognized by Dean Stonesifer for his courage and determination in achieving his goals.

"There are new frontiers. There is work for a pilgrim to do as long as there is pain and hunger and injustice and loneliness and ignorance in the world. There is a place for a 'doer'; a time to be involved. This is not a seasonal message; it is not a message that the church pulls out once a year and challenges its followers; it is God's eternal, unchanging, and unalterable message: get up and get out into the world. This call must be answered in faith and in love. It is here and now. The journey is yours. O Brother Pilgrim!" President H.C. Evans and Academic Dean James A. Stonesifer conferred one hundred twenty-two Associate in Arts and Associate in Science degrees upon graduates at the Forty-Fourth Commencement-Convocation of Lees-McRae College.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGES

This year Lees-McRae had thirteen sophomores selected for the national publication, WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGES. The publication recognizes students for their outstanding contributions to their campus, the student's scholarship, leadership, and participation in education and extra-curricular activities, his general citizenship and his promise of future usefulness is recognized. It is a means of compensation for outstanding efforts and achievement; a standard of management for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION WE DEDICATE THE 1974

It is with great pride that we, the 1974 Ontaroga staff, dedicate this publication to Dr. H. C. Evans - the man responsible. Despite the many individuals and groups involved in the "We Care" fund-raising campaign, Dr. Evans' enthusiasm and spirit was the driving force in the success of the building program. No matter how many people worked and gave of their time unselfishly in this effort, our president was the man responsible for its success.

Dr. H. C. Evans, Jr., President of Lees-McRae, has his hands full each day keeping up with administrative matters, personal matters and the duties and hobbies which have made him one of the best known personalities in Western North Caroline. At left, Dr. Evans consults with Lees-McRae Dean of

ONTAROGA TO . . . DR. H. C. EVANS . . . THE MAN RESPONSIBLE

He faces daily the far-reaching tasks of decision-making for the college. Whether his decisions are popular or unpopular, he is the man who follows the adage: "The buck stops here." He is the man responsible. Dr. Evans exemplifies the spirit of "The College That Cares." He is always ready to listen to the students. Any problems that might arise, he will be there... he is the man responsible . . . for Lees-McRae.

Students O'dell Smith; plays with his pet "de-skunked" skunk, Jerry; and goes over the musical score of "Tom," the play he wrote for elementary school children. Evans' varied daily activities include work in his Presbyterian Church, Kiwanis Club affairs, and help with local Boy Scouts.
